

Jim Docherty Bio

Hello, my name is Jim Docherty and I am running for the board of Colonial Estates.

I have been living here for close to 17 years as a full-time resident. My lot number is 133 on N. Colonial Dr. I live with my wife Deb and some furry children. I have been retired for close to two years now and feel I would be a good fit for the board.

Before I retired I worked for Publix Super Markets for 25 years I was a manager for 20 years. While working for Publix I was involved in all facets of a fortune 500 business.

Before Publix I was owner and operator of a business in Coral Springs. After I met my wife Deb I got involved in the art world, through that I winded up being the president of the Delray Art Society. My wife Deb volunteers for the Monday afternoon art classes in the clubhouse and shows our neighborhood artists different ways of doing things. Currently I am the CEO and marketing director of art by LaFogg.

With my outgoing personality I feel that living here full-time in this great community that I would put my best foot forward in order to succeed in keeping our community one of the best in the area. As a board member I could help in the office if needed and keep on top of projects that are going on in the park. I have plenty of time to research bids and anything else that could save us money. If you are looking for somebody that's honest trustworthy and understanding please vote for me.
